Current County Administrator Neil Morgan retiring at the end of 2023

September 20, 2023

At the September 19, 2023 meeting, the York County Board of Supervisors appointed Deputy County Administrator, Mark Bellamy, as the Interim County Administrator effective January 1, 2024. This coincides with the retirement of current County Administrator, Neil Morgan.

Chairman Tom Shepperd stated, "By taking action now, we can all make plans for the upcoming transition. The organization and the community can be confident that there will be continuity in all of the important things for which we are responsible. This also allows the newly organized Board of Supervisors to consider the long-term decision regarding the County Administrator position."
